To Whom It May Concern:

I am adding my voice to the number of people who feel that the Dept of Justice's remedy of the Microsoft Antitrust case is woefully inadequate, and demonstrates a clear lack of understanding of the issues involved, including what is at stake.

I fear that allowing Microsoft to continue with these paltry and easily sidestepped penalties will not be good for the consumer as a whole, and will stifle innovation instead of encourage it. I am writing to encourage that the DOJ rethink its decision, and press for hard and firm penalties this time.
